LAKE CITY AND ST. JOE RUN- by some inspired shooting. He NERS UP

West Branch And Houghton Lake Consolation Winners

(By Gerald Poor)

The tournament has come and gone for another year and the participants

In Class C the tournament surprise was Lake City. They came with a team which lost all but three of six-teen games, a team which had been could be placed in nicely. Sherman team which lost all but three of six-teen games, a team which had been the victim of many close but lost ball games. They took on the stal-wart West Branch crew in the first round and won a breath-taking 13-14 victory from a team which had twice previously beaten them. That game is held by many to have been the best in the entire three day session. Class D is monopolized by the Gaylord's crew of sharpshooters (inalists quite decidedly. Though downed a fighting Grayling team to with a place in the finals. And here the two teams that battled it out for regain Lake City proved a surprise first honors carry off the places. They put on a second-half rally that a'l but carried through to victory, losing 18-20. The dopesters had it that Lake City could not possibly play inspired ball two nights in a row and would go down to decisive defeat before the Gaylord veterans. West Branch carried off the consolation cup through a decisive win over Grayling, the score being 32-11.

In Class D St. Marys of Gaylord

and St. Joseph of West Branch came and heady center, though the guards though they didn't look too impres sive in the process. So much for a review of the general tournament results. Now for that customary fraud, the all-tournament teams. Anyone can choose his own and feel quite as justified with his decision as the next. Here's one orinion; though everyone and mis boys magnitude then next brother may/disagree it may furnish if not this year then next perhaps you may not agree with opinion; though everyone and his boys might be logical selections, and

He deserves his post as clearly as any choice. No other man for another year and the participation of an settle back and discuss the results with a "might-have-been" attitude while the winners carry on to the regional at Petoskey. This year's the regional at Petoskey. This year's in his class could compare with him the regional at recoskey. Offhand this looks like a double brother act. The McCoys come from the same family, but the Artmans are cousins. L. McCoy played nice ball here at the tournament and clearly deserves his place. Kovial teamed with him at forward. and St. Joseph of West Branch came teamed with nim at forward. It was a battle kept off any all-star team. He has worth seeing however. St. Marys had the physical qualifications, and he fast, clever forwards and a smart works hard as well. St. Marys tied him up, but they could afford to conwere not up to the standard set by centrate on him. K. McCoy also is the front line. St. Joe had big cap a natural selection. He played cenable guards, a fine center and ter for St. Marys but he could be smaller, weaker forwards. When put made into a splendid guard. Many to the test St. Mary's came through, Her supposedly weak guards rose to dividual in the tournament. He does the occasion splendidly and their everything, and does it to perfection. THE INDIVIDUAL AND HIS BANK poses. Unceasing efforts to bring about continually improving methdepositors in banks of all kinds have long been uppermost in the plans of bankers' organiza-tions throughout the nation. They are not the outgrowth merely of the past year of business adversity, but have been carried on actively for many years and have resulted in great prog ress along lines of better, safer bank ing methods. Although banking along with all business has suffered reverses, conditions in this field have been far less severe than they would have been had not bankers been widely success ful in their endeavors to develop the high standards of banking that now generally prevail.

aid them meet the duties this im-

The American Bankers Association and bankers' organizations in every state actively support the principle of government supervision of banking. The national banks, which receive their charters to do business from the federal government, are under the supervision of the Comptroller of the Currency at Washington. Through his efficient staffs of expert bank examiners in every section he has the duty and powers to keep watch of the way every national bank is being conducted, to suggest desirable changes in its policles or methods and even to step in and take control for the protection of the depositors if such action is war ranted. The state banks, also, which are chartered by the various state gov ernments, are subject to similar su pervision and control by state bank officials. In addition banks in many places have long maintained voluntary clearing house associations which en force even closer supervision over their Present laws adequately enforced contain ample provisions for government supervision. Bankers univer sally believe in strong, capable banking departments manned by officials with the discretion and courage to enforce these laws and act under them as the common welfare demands. They be lieve that these public officials should be paid sufficient salaries to command the services of men of character, ability and a resolute spirit of public service They believe also that the banking de-partments should be kept free from all political or other special influence in order to be able to act at all times with single-minded independence solely for the benefit of the public interest.

Bankers Favor Public Supervision

Although banks in the United States operating under state or national charters are thus subject to supervision of public authority, they are strictly private business enterprises. They are owned by their stockholders and administered by officials chosen through the boards of directors which their stockholders elect. No bank is owned or operated by the United States Government, nor, with one small exception in a western state, by any state government. The function of government in banking is to promote and enforce careful banking administration through the system of examination and super-vision which I have described. This, however, does not relieve the individu-al depositor from the necessity of judging and choosing carefully as to his banking relations, just as in his other business or professional relations. He must inquire for himself into the character and type of institution and men he shall do business with, tion, reliability and capability. These qualities are essential to complete the element of safety and dependability in any human institution

An Illusory Law

The bank deposit guaranty law in any form is a snare and a delusion, de-clares a banker in a state where it has heen tried adding. "It is a license and encouragement to irresponsible banks and banking and penalizes capital solvency and prudent banking. It creates a sense of security in the minds of the unthinking and uninformed that is false and impossible to be realized on ultimately. To compare it to legitimate insurance is without reason and absurd. It iconardizes the solvency of all banks and the safety of all depositors for the theoretical safety of a few are and always will be impotent, futile and disastrous. It is not new. Has been tried, failed and discarded at intervals for more than 100 years in this country. No well-informed, honest and in telligent mind can accept it in principle or practice. Competent bank suervision and restriction of banks to territory that will warrant sufficient capital investment and accounts is the only same and honest course and will afford all the guaranty the depositing public is entitled to as compared with all other human affairs."

GARDEN HINTS PLANTING PLAN, FIRST STEP IN GARDEN SUCCESS

A Planting Chart for the Garden is the first step toward success. Secure a large piece of heavy paper that will become a permanent record of results during the whole season. Lay off the boundaries of your garden to a pre-determined scale (% inch to the foot is a convenient scale). List all the vegetables and flowers you wish to plant. Then note opposite the name the vegetables and flowers you wish to plant. Then note opposite the note each plant the distances between rows and between plants in the row.

Every well planned garden will have the following divisions:

- 1. A section for early maturing vegetables like lettuce, radishes, onions, which may be replaced after maturity early in the sum-
- 2. A section for late maturing vegetables that will occupy the soil all season, as melons, cucumbers, cabbage. 8. A section for perennial plants and vegetables which grow from
- season to season without replanting, such as rhubarb, saparagus, horseradish, globe artichoke, and the like. These should be planted at one side of the garden plot where they will not interfere with work on the other portion.

Keeping in mind the advisability of grouping these three classes of neeping in mind the advisability of grouping these tares classes of vegetables, draw off the rows you propose to devote to each of the plants ea your list, giving each kind the necessary room for best development. Several plantings of many kinds of vegetables are advisable in order to insure harvesting over a long period. For this reason, successive plantings of corn, tomatoes, peas, beans, lettuce and others should be marked clearly on the

The planting chart serves as a picture of the garden-to-be even before spading and preparation of the soil are begun. It should show clearly what, where and when each vegetable is to be planted. It should be preserved as a where and when each vegetable is to be planted. It should be preserved as a record of the dates and amounts harvested so it can be used in following years as a guide to an even better garden. The mistakes in culture, scaretty or over-abundance of each kind of vegetable as recorded on the chart, are the best teachers of the proper procedure for the next season.

THURSDAY, MARCH 12, 1931

THE GOOD WORK GOES ON The desire of the people of Eastern Michigan to have the Conservation Department of the state retain the fish hatchery in Grayling is so general and the sentiment so much in favor that there has been almost a stampede of protest against its abandonment. Newspapers all over eastern and northern Michigan have been strong against the plans of the Department. Also Chambers of Commerce and other organizations and many individuals of influence have taken the matter up with the State department in behalf of keeping the Grayling hatchery in operation. Only last week a number of petition blanks were received at the Avalanche office in which it is requested that the Department re-con sider its plans on the matter. These petitions were circulated all over eastern Michigan, we understand, and no doubt Governor Brucker has been wamped with them.

Following is a copy of a personal letter written to Governor Brucker by our old friend Sandy McKay, postmaster of West Branch. It is quite similar to many others that been sent out voluntarily to the State authorities. They certainly deserve sincere consideration and should carry much influence. Mr. McKay's letter reads as follows:

West Branch, Mich. March 3, 1931

Hon. Wilbur Brucker, Lansing, Mich. Dear Governor:

My attention has been called to the controversy the Conservation Department is having with the citizens of Grayling over the Fish Hatchery, and it appears to me a grave mistake is taking place at this time, if the contemplated plans are carried out. Why rob this part of the state of one of its greatest attractions, McCoy, L., rf 6 namely the Fish Hatchery at Graynamely the Fish Hatchery at Gray-ling. I have personally sent many tourists to Grayling to see the trout Kofft, c 0 at the Hatchery, and the sight of Dreffs, lg 0 these trout really meant more to tourists than any event in their whole trip into Northeastern Mich-

I personally know the history of the Grayling hatchery and its loss means much to every county in Northeastern Michigan. We haven't much to show the tourists when the state advertises for tourists to come up to these parts, but what we have, we are all trying to retain and pres erve what we have.

I can hardly believe that you can sit back and see such plans made in opposition to the defense of every fisherman who visits these parts, say nothing about the feeling of our good neighbors at Gravling.

I firmly believe this is one of the greatest steps backward committed the Conservation Commission in many years, and the feeling it has caused will be reactionary.

Certainly you have some power to weigh these matters before such a radical change is made, and it is my wish that you cause a reconsideration

The closing of the state owner cement plant at Chelsea is provided in a bill introduced by Rep. Look of Lowell. It would authorize the Governor and the administrative board to sell the plant as soon as a fair price is offered.

This promises to stir up a legislative fight before the matter is disposed of. It has been a political issue in the last four state campaigns, ever since it was secured during the Groesbeck administration as a means of fighting the large operators of the cement plants. The present deficit igainst the plant is placed at vary ing amounts, all the way from $66,000 to $700,000. When Gov. Green was first elected he promised to close down the plant, but no action was ever taken. Prison labor is used to operate the plant, about 200 inmate of Jackson prison being given em ployment during the season, with about 75 hired workers also being em ployed

Rubiner Stirs Things Up.

Just when the disposal of the apital punishment bill and other controversial issues promised peace and quiet in the legislative halls, Charles . Rubiner, assistant attornev gen eral, stirred things up with a speech given before the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Lansing. Members of the Legislature took offense at some points of his statement, and although he sent a letter of npology, both branches rushed through a resolution introduced by Senator Rushton calling for the naming of a committee to probe the charges. A similar resolu-tion introduced in the House by Rep. Bradley of Menominee, was passed by that body but when it became stalled n a Senate committee, the other reso lution was introduced and passed.

The bill attempts to make as little change as possible insofar as it affects the present con gressmen, but the changes are radical enough to justify the expectation that there will be plenty of change made before the measure is finally enacted into law.

Central standard is now Michigan's Grayling High School—LaVere lower Michigan and many other cities at scattered points use eastern time towns go to eastern time during the summer months, Senator Conlon of Grand Rapids has introduced a bill which would make eastern time official for all of Michigan. Complaints have been coming in about parties dropping junk articles in the highway east of town, that should have been taken to the dump instead. Drivers of cars say that at times these articles become men-aces and dangerous. It does seem as the people would know better than to do these things, but it seems that some people would rather be criminals than decent law-abiding citizens. Pride for orderliness should be sufficient inspiration to cause people to want to keep the highway scenery clean and pleasant, as well as make them safe for driving.

After behaving like a lamb since the month of March was ushered in Old Man Winter took charge last Saturday night and did a rushing winter business. A snow storm started that did not let up until the following Tuesday morning. Without doubt it was Michigan's greatest storm of the winter. It is estimated that 18 inches of the state, it is reported, got heavi er falls of snow than we did here. This was especially true in the west-orn part of the state where they are ern part of the state where they are still trying to shovel themselves out in some piaces. U. S. 27 was about the only thru trunk line highway that was kept open. Traffic was possible from the Ohio border north to Mackinaw City. Most trunk lines running east and west were impossible for travel for saveral days had sible for travel for several days, but are open again at this time. The storm bere fell upon bere ground but in the region of the "angw belt," between Alpena and Mancelosa there was still the greater part of last winter's anow. So that now it looks as the it would last far into the summer. Mild weather since Tues-day has greatly reduced the snow here so that it looks as the it wouldn't hat long.

More than 73,000 miles in a New Ford

THE substantial worth of the new Ford is reflected in its good performance, economy and reliability. Its stamina and endurance are particularly apparent in sections where bad roads and severe weather put a heavy extra burden on the automobile.

In less than a year a new Ford Tudor Sedan was driven more than seventy-three thousand miles over a difficult route. The operating cost per mile was very low and practically the only expense for repairs was for new piston rings and a new bearing for the generator.

The car carried an average load of 1200 pounds of mail and was driven 250 miles daily. "The Ford has never failed to go when I was ready," writes one of the three mail carriers operating the car. "The starter did the trick last winter even at 34 degrees below zero. The gas runs about 20 miles per gallon. At times I pull a trailer whenever I have a bulky load."

Many other Ford owners report the same satisfactory performance. Every part has been made to endure - to serve you faithfully and well for many thousands of

The foremost sleigh was gloriously distancing the others when, with a mighty crash and amid screams and tears, the erstwhile joyous crowd was ingloriously deposited amid banks of snow. The return journey was fortunately unmarred by disaster excepting for ill-judged directions and other amusing mishaps, and the merry crowd arrived home with glorious anticipa

The movies have long been taking sture from the stage. Now the stage is taking stars from the movies. It really is very simple. Theatrical producers said to themselves:

"Why not make the movies help rather than hurt our business? The novies have spent huge fortunes making the pictures of certain persons own in every city, town and hamlet. Naturally, the country in general would like to see these stars in peron: see them check in at the hotel: stroll along the street; take a curtain call; come out the state door. For that it one thing about a moving picture: the stars are not home-grown; they are canned goods, and you can't meet them at the stage door after the show. So let's play the human ele-ment. There should be money in it."

So saying, the theatrical producers proceeded to make the road to Holly-wood a two-way street. I suppose they talked to the movie stars of the thrill of appearing before an audience which paid to get in, rather than an audience of camera men, who were paid to be there; of the sweet sound of applause; of flowers handed over the footlights. Anyhow, there are a num-ber of moving picture performers who are trying their hands at becoming actors and actresses.

There is a big difference in the two games. stage. There is no retouching. There is a prompter, but no director with a megaphone. And the perfect thing must be done night after night, not caught just once under prepared conditions, as it is in the movies. Nor is throwing the voice to the back of a theater the same thing as talking for a megaphone. Stage tricks are not the same as movie tricks, and they take longer to learn.

Although Harlemites are inveterate gamblers, there has never, so far as I can discover, been a roulette wheel there. The game of policy, now known as "numbers," is the most popular form of gambling and next to that comes dice shooting. The police don't bother much about the card clubs, but they will not let a dice house get started, if they can help it. The rea-son is that it draws all the crooked element, colored and white, and there are too many stabbings, cuttings and shootings. I am told that there is only one dice house in Harlem and that it probably will be closed at any mo Crap games in private apartments, between friends, or supposed friends, always go on.

Those persons who find boxing bout dull affairs, as many of them are, should try a new system. They should to the smaller clubs and, instead of looking, listen. Here top price for seats is never more than three dollars and everything is on an intimate foot At the big baseball parks the seats close to the ring are occupied by bankers, brokers, stars of finance and the stage, and the sort of persons who take their public amusements in a more or less dignified manner. The rough wit, who has money only for a cheaper seat, is too far from the playing field to make his voice heard, and the very size of the park and crowd make him feel his own insignificance cramp his style and give him an in feriority complex; which is one of the things that is the matter with base-ball. Perhaps the remark of the fight club gallery god that has been most often repeated was the one made when a yellow-haired boy was back-pedaling desperately, but not fast enough to escape a beating.
"Hey, blondy," yelled a galleryite,

'you're wanted on the telephone.'

Dr. Frederick W. Hodge tells m that he believes the oldest apple trees in the United States are to be found in the Manzano region of New Mexico They were planted by Spanish monks about 1656. In the wooded portions of found, planted by the man known as "Appleseed Johnny." The story is that he used to wander around eating apples and carrying a cane. When he finished an apple, he bored a hole in the ground with his cane and planted the seeds. I might try that in Cen tral park.

TAGGING DOES NOT INJURE TROUT

Trout are not injured by the metal age used in trout tagging experinents, according to the Institute for Fisheries Research.

During trout tagging operations on the Little Beaver Creek during the fall of 1930, large numbers of fish already tagged were recaptured. Only three or four trout were found dead and none of these had been tagged. No fish were found on which the tags had torn loose and there was no apparent infection about the attachment of the tag.

France and Italy Reach Agreement as to Their Naval Strength—Seventy-First Congress Comes to an End.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

D PLOMATS and financiers, working steadily and persistently, have brought about an accord between France and Itaon the question of relative naval strength, and the prob-able result will be that the three-power London naval treaty will become a five-power A. Henderson pact. Thus the French and Italians will give up the idea of A. Henderson starting a building program that would compel Great Britain to increase her naval forces under the "escalator" clause of the treaty, and the United States and Japan would be relieved of the fear that their relative strength would not be maintained without a lively resumption of building. Artbur Henderson, British foreign secretary, was most active in the final stages of the negotiations between stages of the negotiations between France and Italy, making trips to Rome and Paris, and is given credit for ex-cellent work. But it is admitted that the groundwork for the agreement was laid by Hugh S. Gibson, American anbassador to Belgium, who for several months had been laboring to bring the dispute to an end. Acting under personal orders from President Hoover, he held a series of private talks with Mussolini, Tardieu, Briand and others, and transmitted their various proposals to Rome and Paris and finally to

The financial end of the accord consists in a long term loan to Italy, to be made by French and American bankers, which will really be a war debt moratorium in disguise. The Fascist government will receive perhaps three and a half billion dollars, which sum, it is said, will " save Italy from bankruptcy and put the country on its feet." Specifically, the loan will be used to retire and convert internal debt obligations, $1,820,000,000 of which fell due on October 1 last. Mus-solini's previous efforts to obtain long term loans from American and French of the naval dispute with Francee

While the terms of the Franco-Italheld from the public, it was learned in l'aris that it provides that French naval superiority over Italy be reduced from 240,00 tons to 190,000 tons, most of the reduction coming from projected submarines and supersubmarines, it was agreed that the battleship ton-nage allotted at the Washington naval conference would not be used for ships of more than 25,000 tons. France obtained the right to build three 23,300. ton vessels of the super-cruiser type.

In return for superlority in global or total tonnage, it is believed that France gives Italy a slight superiority In light cruisers and torpedo destroyers, but retains supremacy in subma-rines. It was understood that Italy demanded the sacrifice of super-subma rines in the French program and that France made the concession because its coastal submarines are sufficient for its present needs. France and Ita ly, it is understood, agreed on parity in 10,000-ton cruisers.

LEGAL proceedings are under way in Washington in the contest between President Hoover and the senate over the right of Chairman George Otis Smith of the power commission to hold that office, and the by John W. Davis,

Selection of Mr. Davis as counsel for the senate assures a spectacular court test, with the former Presidential candidate on one side and possibly Attorney-General Mitchell on the other. The final decision probably will be rendered by the Supreme court.

With a filibuster in the senate and rather uproarious galety in the house, the seventy-first congress came to an end at noon, March 4. During its life it carried out fairly well President Hoover's program of legislation, despite frequent acrimonious clashes with the Chief Executive since last December. It is unnecessary to recount these disputes, for every one is famil-iar with them. In only two major atfairs—the nomination of Judge Parker veterans' bonus loan act-was the

H. H. Curran and 360,000 members of the association, Mr. Curran declared that the dry cause had not advanced an inch during 1930, while the wet movement had registered important gains. He asserted that the November election doubled the wet representation in the house and raised the senate wet group from 15 two years ago, to 22 at present. He said the house now has a wet vote of 160, compared with 76 in 1928.

CHAIRMAN RASKOB told the Democratic national committee at its meeting in Washington all about the wet policy which he thought the party should adopt, but said he would not ask action on his suggested platform until the next meeting. Dry members from the South vigorously opposed Raskob's views or any consideration of them by the committee. It was decided that a $10,000,000 campaign fund should be raised.

L OW bid for the general contract on the Hoover dam and power plant in Boulder canyon was submitted in Denver by a combination of western construction firms—the Six Companies, Inc., of San Francisco, and ed that this bid of $48.890.995.50 be accepted by Secretary of the Interior Wilbur. Work on the project, the biggest engineering job ever undertaken in this country, probably will be started before the end of March, Government officials, although as-serting work would be hastened so unemployment conditions in the South-west would be relieved, warned workers against a general migration to the Nevada-Arizona line dam site as there were 10,000 laborers on hand at Las Vegas, Nev. Estimates for construction forces ranged from 2,000 to 2,500 men at work at one time when the program gets into full stride.

ONE of the most of the American army, and indeed of the nation, passed on when Lieut, Gen. Edgar Jadwin, retired chief of the army engineering corps and chairman of the interocean canal commission, died at Gorgas hospital in Panama City. While in Gen. Jadwin Gen. Jadwin Ancon preparing to go to Nicaragua to survey the possibiliies of a Nicaraguan canal, he was stricken with apoplexy, and a cerebral nemorrhage ended his life. General Jadwin, who was born in Honesdale, Pa. In 1865, was graduated brilliant career in the engineering corps for nearly forty years, retiring

He served in the Spanish-American war and the World war, but was best known for his neacetime work in the United States and in the Canal Zone. The Jadwin plan of flood control for-mulated after the disastrous Missis-sippl valley floods of 1927 was the army officer's most important work. The plan called for expenditure of $325,000,000 and was opposed in congress, but finally passed with administration support.

FICEROY LORD IRWIN and Ma-V hatma Gandhi, both making con-cessions, reached an agreement for peace in India, and the civil disobedience movement that had lasted for a year came to an end. The Nationalists looked on the pact as a triumph for the doctrine of non-violence. The Britsiderable, probably gets none the worst of the bargain. By the terms of the agreement, it is understood, the Nationalists abandon their resistance movement and will work for qualified dominion status in the second round table conference. In return, their imprisoned members will be released and nost of the confiscated property will be returned; they are permitted to conduct boycotts that do not aim spe-cifically at British goods, and the poor natives along the coast are given the right to make their own salt.

The most important gain for the British was the point in which the Nationalists agreed to confine themselves at the next round table con-ference to the specified scope of con-stitutional questions elucidated by the first round table meeting in London. This commits Gandhi to the principle of a federation of Indian responsibil-ity, but with British safeguards covering finance, defense, foreign affairs, the position of minorities and the discharge of India's national debts.

S IR OSWALD MOSLEY, wealthy British socialist, and his wife, Lady Cynthia, have broken with the Laborites and formed a new party of their own which asks for 400 candidates in the next election. The Mosleys espe-cially attack the unemployment policy of the MacDonald government.

A L CAPONE, Chicago's public enemy No. 1, did not fare so well when he ran afoul of the federal judiciary there. Judge Wilkerson sentenced the notorious gang leader to six months in jall for contempt of court in excusing his non-appearance in court some time ago by pleas of ill-ness at Miami. The case was appealed, Capone being released under bond.

S ENATOR Arthur Capper's commit-tee on food prices reported that it found "an alarming tendency toward the monopolistic control of the food of the nation by a small group of powerful corporations and combinations," the tendency being especially strong in the case of bread and milk. A careful scrutiny by the federal trade commission and the Department of Justice was recommended.

TWO new governments within a week for Peru! First a navy group forced Sanchez Cerro to resign and named Chief Justice Ricardo Elias provisional president. Then along came a bunch of officers and troops loyal to Cerro and out went Elias and his friends. The new army junta was headed by Col. Gustave Jimenes.
